Today's Readings

Isaiah 60:1-6

Arise, shine; for your light has come, and the glory of the Lord has risen upon you. For darkness shall cover the earth, and thick darkness the peoples; but the Lord will arise upon you, and his glory will appear over you. Nations shall come to your light, and kings to the brightness of your dawn. Lift up your eyes and look around; they all gather together, they come to you; your sons shall come from far away, and your daughters shall be carried on their nurses' arms. Then you shall see and be radiant; your heart shall thrill and rejoice, because the abundance of the sea shall be brought to you, the wealth of the nations shall come to you. A multitude of camels shall cover you, the young camels of Midian and Ephah; all those from Sheba shall come. They shall bring gold and frankincense, and shall proclaim the praise of the Lord.

Ephesians 3:1-12

This is the reason that I Paul am a prisoner for Christ Jesus for the sake of you Gentiles – for surely you have already heard of the commission of God's grace that was given me for you, and how the mystery was made known to me by revelation, as I wrote above in a few words, a reading of which will enable you to perceive my understanding of the mystery of Christ. In former generations this mystery was not made known to humankind, as it has now been revealed to his holy apostles and prophets by the Spirit: that is, the Gentiles have become fellow heirs, members of the same body, and sharers in the promise in Christ Jesus through the gospel. Of this gospel I have become a servant according to the gift of God's grace that was given me by the working of his power. Although I am the very least of all the saints, this grace was given to me to bring to the Gentiles the news of the boundless riches of Christ, and to make everyone see what is the plan of the mystery hidden for ages in God who created all things; so that through the church the wisdom of God in its rich variety might now be made known to the rulers and authorities in the heavenly places. This was in accordance with the eternal purpose that he has carried out in Christ Jesus our Lord, in whom we have access to God in boldness and confidence through faith in him.

Matthew 2:1-12

In the time of King Herod, after Jesus was born in Bethlehem of Judea, wise men from the East came to Jerusalem, asking, "Where is the child who has been born king of the Jews? For we observed his star at its rising, and have come to pay him homage." When King Herod heard this, he was frightened, and all Jerusalem with him; and calling together all the chief priests and scribes of the people, he inquired of them where the Messiah was to be born. They told him, "In Bethlehem of Judea; for so it has been written by the prophet: 'And you, Bethlehem, in the land of Judah, are by no means least among the rulers of Judah; for from you shall come a ruler who is to shepherd my people Israel.'" Then Herod secretly called for the wise men and learned from them the exact time when the star had appeared. Then he sent them to Bethlehem, saying, "Go and search diligently for the child; and when you have found him, bring me word so that I may also go and pay him homage." When they had heard the king, they set out; and there, ahead of them, went the star that they had seen at its rising, until it stopped over the place where the child was. When they saw that the star had stopped, they were overwhelmed with joy. On entering the house, they saw the child with Mary his mother; and they knelt down and paid him homage. Then, opening their treasure chests, they offered him gifts of gold, frankincense, and myrrh. And having been warned in a dream not to return to Herod, they left for their own country by another road.

A WORD FROM THE RECTOR

Today we will observe The Epiphany of our Lord, a principal feast of the Church, and an event also known as the manifestation of Christ to “wise men from the East.”

This time of year, I am not alone in enjoying a read of the famous “Journey of the Magi” by TS Eliot, the first lines of which were inspired by a Christmas sermon preached in 1622 by Lancelot Andrewes, the chief translator of the King James Version of the Bible, and the one responsible for the version’s soaring poetry. He begins his sermon:

*A cold coming we had of it,
Just the worst time of the year
For a journey, and such a long journey:
The ways deep and the weather sharp,
The very dead of winter.*

So many works of art and poetry have been inspired by the Epiphany, which is described for us in the second chapter of the Gospel of Matthew. Those of us who follow Christ always find ourselves on a journey of sorts—a journey into life and light. It does not matter how sharp the weather of our lives may be, still, we make our way in the world—not only following the light but being bearers of that light. Such a mystery is truly wonderful for us.

Another poem I like to read is “Persian Journey,” written by the prolific poet Richard Tillinghast (b.1940) who lives in Sewanee and Hawaii. It is written from the point of view of one of the wise men who recognizes the depth of the mystery and beauty of the light he is following.

Persian Journey

*The country people could hardly fail to notice our caravan,
the fineness of our mounts,
our leopard with her jeweled collar.
And flying in advance of us
our falcons,
their eyes incandescent.*

*When we drink with these rustics
in their smoky tavernas
they comment on
our robes’ gold stitching, the polish
of our tack.*

*And seeing I am a man of learning,
they ask me about the star.*

*Is it always necessary—
I think but do not*

*say—
for the eyes of men
to penetrate the ways of the most high?*

*I lie openly
when they ask me
why we are traveling.
I talk about spices.*

*I talk about incense.
I talk about precious metals.*

O God, you have caused this holy night to shine with the brightness of the true Light: Grant that we, who have known the mystery of that Light on earth, may also enjoy him perfectly in heaven...Amen.

Yours,
Callie

Note: You can find this poem online and a recording of Richard reading it.

The Apostles' Creed (metrical)

Hyfrydol

We believe in God the Father,
God almighty, by whose plan
earth and heaven sprang to being
all created things began.
We believe in Christ the Savior,
Son of God in human frame,
virgin-born, the child of Mary
upon whom the Spirit came.

Christ, who on the cross forsaken,
like a lamb to slaughter led,
suffered under Pontius Pilate,
he descended to the dead.
We believe in Jesus risen,
heaven's king to rule and reign,
to the Father's side ascended
till as judge he comes again.

We believe in God the Spirit;
in one Church, below, above:
saints of God in one communion,
One in holiness and love.
So by faith, our sins forgiven,
Christ our Savior, Lord and friend,
we shall rise with him in glory
to the life that knows no end.
